

WALLWORKS NEW YORK WELCOMES BACK SHIRO FOR AN EXPLORATION OF PARTY PLANET!

[Bronx, NY – October 20, 2025] — WALLWORKS New York is proud to announce Step to the Next Dimension a new solo exhibition by internationally acclaimed Japanese graffiti artist SHIRO-1, on view from October 25 through November 21. The exhibition coincides with the release of her latest visual book Party Planet, expanding her vibrant world of characters, energy, and love into a dynamic visual experience.

Known for her bold lines, infectious positivity, and instantly recognizable female characters, SHIRO has been a prominent figure in the global graffiti scene for over two decades. Her work has adorned walls across Japan, the United States, and beyond, carrying a universal message of joy, unity, and resilience.

Step to the Next Dimension at WALLWORKS New York transforms the gallery into an immersive celebration of SHIRO's creative universe. Through new paintings, illustrations, and mixed-media works, she brings to life the playful optimism and boundless imagination that have defined her career. The exhibition explores themes of cultural exchange, sisterhood, and the power of art to uplift communities across borders.

"It's about energy and connection — a world where everyone can celebrate who they are," says SHIRO. "It's inspired by the friendships, travels, and creative moments that have shaped my journey as an artist."

This exhibition marks SHIRO's return to WALLWORKS New York, a gallery deeply rooted in the Bronx's graffiti and street art legacy. Continuing its commitment to presenting artists who have shaped the visual language of urban art, WallWorks honors SHIRO's contribution to the global graffiti movement and her ongoing impact as a female trailblazer in a historically male-dominated field.
